COLD POINT PLYMOUTH.

Happenings of Local Interest to Our Readers.

Declines Cold Point Church Call—Rally Day Service—Plymouth U. E. Church Activities—Welfare League Formed—Plymouth Centre.

Members of the Cold Point grange are putting forth successful efforts on the hall floor of the new building at Plymouth Centre. The floor has been planed and will be filled and waxed and put into the best possible condition for dancing.

Last Saturday evening a very successful social was held by the Cold Point Sabbath school, when a splendid program was rendered. The attendance was large and appreciative. The speakers included Walter Knerr, of Norristown, superintendent of the Plymouth U. E. Sunday school; Rev. E. H. Baker, pastor of the same church; Rev. Mr. Cawkins, of Temple university; Rev. Mr. Haughton, of Norristown, and Miss Elizabeth Houston, of Norristown. The latter is a former pupil of the school, and although engaged in religious work in other places still considers Cold Point her church home.

Charles Hallman, of Plymouth Meeting died Thursday last after an illness, aged 23 years, and was buried Saturday afternoon in Cold Point cemetery. He was unmarried and leaves his mother, Mary Hallman.

Misses Mary Harris and Ethel Moseley and John Wade, of Plymouth Meeting, sang at the Odd Fellows M. U. hall, Kensington, on Saturday evening. Miss Gladys Moseley accompanied them on the piano.

McGoldrick Asks New Trial.

John J. McGoldrick, the Wheel Pump hotel man, who was found guilty of gambling and leasing his hotel property for gambling purposes, through his counsel, Samuel H. High, has filed with the court reasons for a new trial.

It is contended that the court erred in not granting the defendant's application for a continuance. The application was made because the jurors in the box had heard Judge Swartz's comments on gambling, in addressing Charles Silver and others, who pleaded guilty to gambling.

It is also held that the verdict of the jury is aganist the evidence.

It is contended, also, that the trial judge extensively discussed certain evidence adduted by the commonwealth incriminating the defendant, and ignored important testimony of defendant and his witnesses that showed the good faith and innocence of defendant.

Lastly, it is held that the judge, in his charge, committed errors injurious to the defendant.

In view of the filing of these reasons McGoldrick was not sentenced on Oct. 1.

Killed at Jenkintown.

Ollie D. Bowen, aged 37 years, a Philadelphian, was killed, Thursday, Sep. 29, in Jenkintown, when a truck belonging to the M. L. Shoemaker company, Philadelphia, and driven by William J. Chantry, ran over him. The story of the accident, according to the driver, follows:

Bowen, who was walking along the highway, hailed Chantry, who was passing in the truck and asked for a "lift" in the direction of which the truck was proceeding. Chantry replied that it was aganist the orders of the company of whom he works to permit anyone to board.

Bowen, however, stated that his feet were so sore he could not walk any further, and Chantry decided to act as a "Good Samaritan," and took him on. When they reached the juncture at which Bowen wished to alight. Chantry slowed up the vehicle, and Bowen prepared to get off. The driver cautioned him to wait until the auto came to a full stop but the man leaped to the road bed, and losing his balance fell in front of the vehicle which passed over him, the front wheel crushing his skull and death ensued immediately.

Freed in Connection With the Ambler Tragedy.

A hearing scheduled for Wednesday evening at the office of Magistrate Clark, Norristown, in which Linwood Smith, motorman of the Reading Transit company, was to have been charged with involuntary manslaughter and, which was continued from a previous hearing at which time he furnished $2500 bail, was discontinued when the prosecution failed, after due notification, to put in an appearance.

The action was the result of an accident, Sept. 9, at Seven Stars hotel, when a trolley car operated by Smith, struck an automobile driven by Harry Durkin, of Ambler, and in the fire following the collision, Gertrude Harton also of Ambler, sustained injuries which resulted in her death Sept. 14, at Montgomery hospital.

At the hearing when Durkin, who was the prosecutor, failed to attend the Magistrate dismissed the case.

—A home for the Order of Moose is being erected at Sellersville.

LANSDALE WINS FLAG.

Baseball Champions of Montg. Co. League.

Defeats Doylestown, 6 to 4, on Ambler Grounds—Features of Contest—Large Attendance—Salary List Contrasted—Doylestown's Balance.

Lansdale is now champion of the Montgomery County Baseball league, which honor was won last Saturday on the Ambler grounds. At the close of the season Lansdale and Doylestown were tie for the pennant, and it was decided that three games should be played to settle the championship. Prior to Saturday each team had won a game. It was then voted that the deciding game be played at Ambler, which was done. After nine periods of the finest kind of baseball, Lansdale won by the score of 6 to 4. It is estimated that between 3000 and 4000 fans saw the game.

As stated it was a real ball game and there was only one error to marr the playing of either side. Marakanie, Landberger and Batten, the first three batters up for Lansdale, were easily retired by Longacker, who pitched for Doylestown. Wienert, who was with the Philadelphia National league team, and who has been blacklisted, it is said by organized baseball for having played with an outlaw team while under contract with the Philadelphia team, twirled for Lansdale and from the very start he was in trouble, because of being too generous with free passes to first. Forrest opened the initial round for the county seaters and was retired, Wienert to Smith, Doyle, however, waited and he was the beneficiary of Wienert's first gift. Power was out at first by Smith, Doyle advancing to second, and on the fourth pitched ball to Gear he stole third. A moment later Gear stole 2d, and on the throwin Doyle scored. In the second period Bateman put Lansdale in the running by hitting the second ball over the left field fence for a home run. In the fourth Lansdale forged ahead. Bateman singled and Smith followed suite, and the first break of the game favorable to Lansdale took place when Bateman was caught off second. However, Umpire Lydon ruled otherwise and instead of being only one on base there were two and nobody out. Chambers' bunt bounced high and shot off of Parker's hands towards the third base line and before it could be recovered the batter had reached first. Reed struck out, but Mendenhall came through with a three bagger, scoring Bateman, Smith and Chambers, and on Wienert being retired at first Mendenhall also scored. Murankanie singled, and on Doyle's bad, throw to first he went to second. He tried to steal third, but was put out by Longacker, who was severely injured in making the play and had to retire. Blint was sent in to pitch, while O'Neal took Blint's place behind the plate.

The score, when Doylestown came in for their half of the fourth stood Lansdale 5, Doylestown 1. The latter showed a wonderful fighting spirit and went after Weinert with such a vengance that a bad scare was thrown into the Lansdale followers. Gear, Yeakle and Wodock singled in succession, the first named scoring. Parker neatly sacrificed, advancing the two runners a base. Again the breaks favored Lansdale when Umpire Wassner called two bad ones on Blint, which helped Weinert out of a hole and allowed Doylestown to score but one run, as O'Neal was an easy out at first.

Doylestown in the next inning again went after Wienert and scored two more runs. Forrest opened with a single and Doyle followed with a two-bagger, scoring the former and after Power and Gear were retired Yeakle singled, scoring Doyle. Lansdale got one of these back when Forrest dropped Chambers' fly and two sacrifices sent the batter over the plate. This was all the scoring for either side, Wienert gave his best exhibition in the last session when he struck out the side after Power had hit for three bases.

There has been much speculation, among the fans with regard to the cost of the two teams. The following was learned at the game and will make interesting reading for those who took up the discussion relative to the salary each player of the two teams received. Beginning with the catchers. Blint and Mendenhall received about the same salary; Wienert was paid $125, while Longacker got $15. There is a difference of $17.50 in the salaries of the two first basemen, which is in favor of Smith; George Batten got about $4 more a game than Wodock at second; there was about the same difference in the salaries of the short stops, but at third base Harry Bateman, who is known as the highest paid player in the league outside of the pitchers, receives about $28 more a game than Parker; among the outfielders there is a difference in the payroll of $24. Doylestown, prior to the game had a bank balance of $800 and all bills paid, even to the players' salaries and by the size of the crowd on Saturday, Doylestown will likely add from $800 to $1000 more to the above bank account. The Doylestown fans should congratulate themselves upon having a manager who can place such a team in the field at a reasonable cost.

MAPLE GLEN.

Several wells in this vicinity are dry.

Mrs. Daniel Campman, of Ambler, has been spending some time with her son, Daniel F. Campman, and family.

C. Howard Roberts, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Roberts, has infantile paralysis.

Several persons from this vicinity attended the funeral of Florence C., wife of Joseph H. Maytrotts, from her home Fox Chase, on the 19th of last month. The family were residents of Maple Glen and Three Tuns for a number of years and took great interest in the Baptist Mission, at the latter place. The deceased seldom allowed anything to prevent her from attending its services, a most worthy example for all.

—Lansdale schools opened with an enrollment of 950 pupils.

GAS HEARINGS TO BE RESUMED.

Public Service Commission to Sit on Friday.

Progress Thus Far Believed to Have Been Favorable to Consumers—Testimony Desired as to Conditions Complained Of—Attendance Urged.

The hearings, before the Public Service Commission, of the Gas Consumers' league against the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Elec. Co., now being held in room 243 City Hall, Philadelphia, have been discontinued for a week and will be resumed on Friday, Oct. 7th.

It has been conceded by many, that thus far, the consumers have made splendid progress and that everything points to a substantial reduction in gas rates for this locality.

It is the desire of the Civic Protection Association of Ambler, whose members have been working on the case for this district, that consumers attend these hearings whenever possible and thus assist by there presence and testimony, if required, in confirming the claims made against the gas company relative to price, quality, service, etc., by the several protestery bodies. Anyone willing to testify will kindly advise Mrs. Stewart H. Macintyre, secertary, Ambler, Pa., who will inform them just when they will be required to be present.

This is an important matter and should have the hearty co-operation of every citizen interested in securing cheaper and better gas. The central committee is still short of funds, and as Ambler is considerably below its quota in subscriptions, it is hoped that ther will be agenerous response to this appeal and that our people will promptly send to either of the local banks whatever they can afford to give toward making a real success of the contest now being waged.

Apple Packing Law.

The attention of Pennsylvania apple growers is called to the provisions of the Apple Packing Law which went into effect in 1917. This law is intended to protect the consumer and the honest packer against misrepresentation and misbranding.

The law states that the surface of a closed package of apples shall fairly represent the average of the balance of the fruit in the package. It also requires that the package be marked with the name and address of the packer, the name of the variety, the minimum size of the fruit in the package, and the contents of the package.

Further details can be secured by writing the Bureau of Markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg, Pa.

The burglars had made preparations for a complete clean-out when the Husteds surprised them. Police have taken the finger-prints of the men.

Two Sets of Ballot Boxes for Election.

The conducting of a special election for Congressman-at-Large on the same days as the primary nominations are to be made and the submitting before the voters of the question of a Constitutional Convention make necessary two sets of ballot boxes for every election precinct or voting place on the 20th inst.

The nomination papers and ballots pertain only to party affairs, and are preliminary to the forming of the ballots for the November elections. These returns come to the County Commissioners after the primary day.

The special election for a Congress-at-Large, the nominations for which were made by the State Committees of each of the several parties and the determinating of the ballots for the November selections, and the question of a Constitutional Cenvention are formal proceedings specially authorized and the return is to be made to the Prothonotary's office for certification to Harrisburg as to the result. All who are qualified to cast a ballot can vote on these two matters, while only those having indicated their party affiliations can assist in making the nominations.

Thus the County Commissioners are called upon to provide two separate ballot boxes.

Unfortunately, the supply of ballot boxes in this county is limited. An order has been placed for the extras, but the demand from all over the state has overwhelmed the makers.

In the event that the supply for this county is not received in time the Commissioners will have to make some form of temporary provision.

Sales by the Sheriff.

At a realty sale conducted by the sheriff at the court house, Norristown, five of the eight properties which were listed to pass under the hammer were disposed of.

The brick making plant at West Point, in the name of James J. Allen, together with two tracts of realty, were sold to Attorney George Wanger, for $8,850. The claim of the Keystone Building and Loan Association was $8,404.77.

A tract of land and buildings ,near the White tavern, Gwynedd Township, seized the property of Edward H. Hedley and others for a debt of $1,-738.12 due Harvey H. Shambo ,was sold to Attorney Samuel Conver, for $2,600.

House and tract, near Willow Grove in Abington, Edwin Hallowell and others owners, for a debt of $2,085.63, due the Jenkintown Trust Co. was sold to Samuel High, of counsel for the plaintiff for $150.

House and two tracts, near the township line, in Plymouth, in the name of May Ett Cooke Exley and others for a debt of $8763.47 due Elizabeth Daniels was sold to A. Plummer for $4,20

The sale of the Matilda Haag property in Cheltenham was continued, while settlement was made in the case of the debt due by Harry J. Bur in connection with his Glenside property and a similar result prevailed in the George F. Manning property at Cynwyd, Lower Merion.

Irish Case on Trial.

The trial of Warren L. Irish, of Norristown, charged with involuntary manslaughter in running down and killing a boy, Edward Foley, of Villanova, was taken up Monday morning. The grand jury returned a true bill in the case.

The manslaughter charge against Norman Penrose, of Elkins Park, who killed his brother, Ralph, in a fight over a telephone bill, has been postponed for the term, A true bill was also returned in this case.

Told to "Get" Liquor Men.

When the Montgomery county constables made their stereotyped report to the court that there had been no violations of the liquor or other laws throughout the county, Judge Miller said there had been complaints at various times, and that it is the business of constables to keep their eyes open and do their sworn duty.

The Judge said there is congestion in the criminal courts, and that much of it is due to the failure to enforce the liquor laws. It is also common report, the Court said that drug stores, cigar stores, soft-drink saloons and other places are selling liquor in violation of the law.

The constables were reminded by the court that any constable who willingly disregards the duties of his office lays himself open to conviction for misdemeanor in office. Judge Miller said he would not permit any winking at violation of the liquor laws in Montgomery County.

Lansdale Newly Weds Camping.

Married on Sep. 10, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Zeh, of Lansdale, have left on a "camping honeymoon." They will go by auto to San Pedro, Calif. and will camp along the route. Mrs. Zeh was formerly Miss Mabel Couter daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Couter.

Lansdale Annexation.

It is planned to extend the borough limits of Lansdale, taking in a section of Hatfield and Upper Gwynedd townships. This will increase Lansdale's population about 2000. The population of Lansdale is now about 6000.

Preliminary steps have been taken to annex a section in Hatfield township, which includes the foundry district, just north of the present borough limits. It will be necessary to secure the indorsement of 50 per cent of the residents to complete the annexation, and it is said they are favorable and, in fact, some have already petitioned.

Lansdale Man Crushed.

Pinned beneath a heavy automobile truck from which he attempted to jump when it capsized one mile south of Pottstown, Thomas Moore, aged 25 years, of Lansdale, sustained injuries to his head that caused his death on the way to the Abington hospital.

Two other men jumptd and saved their lives. It was several minutes before Moore's body could be released. His skull was fractured. Moore was married and had one child.

Seek to Recover $7220.

Action has been brought in the office of the Prothonotary as follows:

By Attorney Winfield N. Crawford in behalf f American Pipe and Supply Co., against Frank H. Mahan, of Ardmore, to recover $7220, damages alleged to be due because of the failure of defendant to deliver certain consignments of pipe at a specified price. Subsequent to the contract being entered into the price of the pipe advanced in excess of the contract price to the amount claimed as damages.

By Attorney Frank J. Bradley in behalf of North Penn Bank, John S. Fisher in possession thereof, to the use of Phoenix Trust Co. against J. R. McClellan, to recover $5601.19 the same being face value of several promisory notes executed, it is alleged, by defendant.

ONE BRAND- ONE QUALITY- One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigaretty aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity —that is CAMEL QUALITY.

Schwenkfelders Meet.

Following a custom of 187 years, members of the Schwenkfelder faith from Philadelphia, Montgomery, Berks, Bucks and Lehigh counties assembled at the annual memorial services in the Schewenkfelder church at Palm Saturday, Sept. 24. Assemblages of Schwenkfelders have been held annually since 1735. During the Revolutionary war the enemy blazed into action dangerously near the meeting place just before the battle of Germantown.

Of the 930 Schwenkfelders in America, 600 were present at the reunion. Among them was Dr. O. S. Kriebel, principal of Perkiomen School and a Schwenkfelder leader who returned from a tour of war territory in Europe. He spoke of conditions there. Other speakers were Dr. Elmer F. Kraws, dean of the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary; the Rev H. L. Zebner, of Philadelphia; the Rev. L. S. Hoffman, of Lansdale; the Rev. R. J. Gottschall, Norristown, and Dr. E. E. S. Johnson, of Hereford.

Wedded at Perkasie.

Two wedding ceremonies were performed by Rev. S. E. Moyer, Perkasie, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 17. At three o'clock at the parsonage Leidy Knechel, of Line Lexington, and Miss Mary Kratz of Silverdale were united in marriage, and at five o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Solliday of Bedminster, Willis Sames, of Plumsteadville, and Miss Justina Solliday were married.

A host of friends witnessed the latter ceremony. The newly weds will reside in the home connected with the Tinicum creamery.

Father is Jailed on Grave Charge.

Charged with an unnatural offense against his own daughter, twelve years old, Samuel Dettra, aged 47, of Hatfield, was arrested by Detective J. B. Stevenson, of Lansdale, and given a hearing before Magistrate White, of that borough. He was held without bail for court and immediately afterwards brought to jail at Norristown.

The first accident on the Springhouse and Chestnut Hill turnpike's new concrete roadway in this section was reported recently, when a motorist ran down a pedestrian. The crew of a passing trolley car was appealed to by the motorist to aid in helping the injured man into the motor car. He was cut, bruised and bleeding about the head, and was removed to the Chestnut Hill hospital.

Miss Mary R. Henszey's school for boys and girls opened on Monday in the substantial and well planned new structure on Lindenwold avenue. An enrollment of nearly 50 pupils is reported. Many of the mothers attended and inspected the new building, which was erected during the recent summer. Miss Henszey was the recipient of congratulations on the progress her school has made and on her possession of the beautiful new, well equipped and splendidly appointed school building.

The Keasbey and Mattison Company, which had intended to operate as usual five days in the week, on October 1st was unable to do so upon account of the intense dullness of business for which the carpenters are in a large degree responsible. The company says that if there is to be little work this winter it would rather run full-handed after Christmas, when its employes cannot get anything else to do, than it would before, as many of its men can now secure employment in husking corn, in working upon roads, in grading and in other work that they cannot do after snow-fall. After the winter begins the Keasbey & Mattison Company expects to run regularly until spring whether it has any business or not, for the purpose of giving work to its old employes, although as a matter of fact it would rather close down the works until spring opens, as there is no demand for its products.

One of the most impressive services ever held in the history of Springfield Presbyterian church took place last Sunday. The occasion was the celebration of the first anniversary of the present pastor, Rev. A. F. Lott, who has been quite successful during his first year in the local field. The services marking this event began in the morning and continued throughout the day. In the afternoon the Christian Endeavor held special services and listened to a most excellent address deliverd by Paul H. Yeoman, president of the C. E. Union, of Philadelphia. Among those who also delivered addresses were. Rev. George J. Crist, of Ambler; Rev. Martin Hocker, of Whitemarsh; Rev. Walter Ritter, Phd., of Wyncote; Rev. Mr. Fox, of Philadelphia, and Dr. Henry, also of Philadelphia. Ther was special music, both vocal and instrumental, that proved an enjoyable feature. The church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers. A marked feature was the attendance of many of the older memberss from a distance and who have not attended a service here for many years. To these members it was a regular home-coming, and it was a great pleasure to them to note the splendid progress made during the past year under the supervision of the present pastor.

Among those who attended the Trenton fair last week were: John L. Freed, David McCrork and Carl Dokenwadel.

Mrs. John Matz, Mrs. Dokenwadel and Mrs. Samuel Burk are spending 10 days on a trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Louis Baker, of Springfield hotel, has been confined to his room on account of illness.

George R. Wallace, of Fort Washington, and Mr. Toland, of Whitemarsh, had a narrow escape from injury one day last week when their cars collided at the intersection of Mill road and the pike. However, both were unhurt but their machines were damaged.

Frank McCool has secured a position as chauffeur for Mrs. A. J. Devereux, Camp Hill.

Wheeler and Couter, plumbers, of Fort Washington, have about finished installing the hot water heating system in Springfield hotel.

The old tree that blew down several months on the Yost property has been cut up and removed by William Buller, one of the tenants on the place.

CENTRE SQUARE.

Miss Eva Schmidt, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Zornek.

Joseph Murphy was among the successful potato growers hereabouts this year. Last week Mr. Murphy harvested a crop of between 800 to 900 bushels.

During the week-end there were a quite a large number of boarders at the Taylor farm. It was the Jewish holidays and the guests came here to celebrate the event.

Among those from this section who visited Trenton fair last week were: Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cassel and Charles Murphy. Francis McClure, Lloyd Fitzgerald and S. C. Ludwig were among those who were at the fair from Belfry section.

Jacob and Kernsey Huber enjoyed a fishing trip to Fortesque last Saturday and returned with a fine big catch They also won the pool for catching the largest fish by any one on the boat. The party they accompanied went from Norristown in the large auto truck of Momme Brothers.

Mrs. Howard Baker, who has been ill, is reported to have recovered at this writing.

The regular monthly meeting of the Centre Square Fire Company will be held Thursday evening and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the members.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Whitpain school board the usual routine business was transacted. J. Irvin Yost was present and registered his protest against the present tax rate.

The male quartet of St. John's Lutheran church is arranging a.. excellent musical program to be given some time during the fall and early winter.

Local growers are said to be selling their potatoes for $2.50 per bushel. The crop is not a large one in this section. Only here and there has a grower been successful. Many of our farmers are almost through cutting corn and they report that a bumper crop will be harvested this year.

Next Monday evening the board of St. John's church will meet. At the same time the Women's Missionary society will hold its monthly session.

The individual communion service was used for the first time in St. John's Church on Sunday. It was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rezer, Horace and Charles Rezer.

J. Irvin Yost and family, George Zimmerman, and Clarence Zimmerman and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoover, of Blue Bell.

Miss Mildred Bernhard entertained Miss Mabel Stannard, of Ambler, over the week-end.

Miss Lillian Knoll spent Sunday in Ambler.

On Wednesday evening Adolph Muller will deliver a lecture on "Alaska" in St. John's Lutheran church. He will give an interesting resume of the important feature of his trip to the north last year.

Miss Irene Bergey, of Boston, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Caroline Bergey.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of St. John's church will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Chalk and Mrs. George Chalk.

Misses Emma and Anna Shoemaker, of Norristown, spent Sunday with F. Clifford Bernhard and family.

Mr. Wm. Heizman is on the sick list.

H. L. Baker and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Bernhard, of Ambler.

On Saturday the Junior Mission band was conveyed to the Lutheran Home for Orphans at Mt. Airy in Momme's large truck. About 35 people enjoyed the outing. On Sunday an offering was taken up for the home amounting to $63.75.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held this Thursday evening, in the fire house.

Mrs. C. S. Haley, and not Percy Latch, is the purchaser of Mrs. John Morris' property, as stated in last week's issue, and in addition we are requested to state that the report that Mr. Latch will do slaughtering on the premises is incorrect..

Lansdale Seeks to Take More Territory.

Maps have been issued showing the territory that Lansdale borough proposes to annex.

The territory comprises portions of three townships, namely ,Hatfield, Upper Gwynedd and Montgomery. If these are annexed the population of Lansdale will be increased about 1200.

Lansdale borough council has completed plans for the annexation, and petitions will be circulated in an endeavor to secure the signatures of 51 per cent of the property owners in the outlaying sections.

The section in Hatfield township takes in what is known as the "factory district." More than half of the industrial plants in the vicinity of Lansdale are outside the limits.

The territory in Upper Gwynedd township includes the hamlet of Pennbrook. At present the Lansdale Borough and the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric company are engaged in a legal battle regarding the right to furnish current to Pennbrook. If that section is annexed to the borough there will be no opportunity to contest Lansdale's rights to supply the section with current.

The move for annexation will protect the Lansdale municipal power and light plant from inroads of the Philadelphia Suburban company.

—Quakertown is agitating for the erection of a sewer system.

—Doylestown prison recently housed 41 inmates, the largest at any one time in its history.

The Ambler Colony club will be held on Wednesday, October 12th, in the new club room, on Lindenwold avenue. The members of the club will be the guests of the executive board at luncheon at 1 o'clock. An important business meeting follows the luncheon and the President, Mrs. C. C. Mehler, requests all the members to be present.

John Garson, who is recognized as the grower of the most beautiful dahlias in this section at his home on Willow avenue, has 33 new varieties in bloom this year, and in addition he has produced his own experimentation. These are indeed beautiful and have been named by Mr. Garson as follows. Mrs. John Garson, Mrs. Frederick W. Foedisch and Mrs. Frederick Foedisch. Throughout the weeks and on Sundays during the season there are quite a large number of people who visit Mr. Garson's home to see the many beautiful blooms.

Last Sunday evening Rev. Ralph L. Mayberry, pastor of Mt. Pleasant Baptist church, commenced a series of sermons of more than ordinary interest. The subject of the discourse on Sunday evening was: "A Man's Ideal Woman." the Attention of the large congregation was held for more than 30 minutes by the speaker, who handled his subject in an excellent manner. Next Sunday evening will be the second sermon of the series on this subject, "A Woman's Ideal Man." The subjects are not being handled sensationally, but calmly, and a very impressive manner.

The Stroi Catholic club held its weekly social meeting at the home of Miss Kathryn and John Lynch, of Ambler, on Friday, 30th where quite a number of the non-attended members were present. Some of the features of the evening were several solos given by Letitia Call and several interesting piano selections rendered by Adeline Rouan. There was also an interesting description and several snap shots shown by John Murphy, of Baltimore, also a member of the club, who had been visiting England. The Club was greatly pleased by his unexpected visit to Ambler. There were also several interesting chicker games, in which Charles Smith and William Morgan were contestants. While the refreshments were being served Joseph McCall gave a demonstration of the cake walk. The meeting adjourned to reassemble in business session at the home of Charles Maguire, North Wales.

Lewis Kapelski a Suicide.

Carefully shaving and bathing himself and putting on clean clothing, Lewis Kapelski committed suicide last Friday night in his home on Water street, Ambler. Death was the result of inhaling illuminating gas. Coroner Neville, who viewed the body rendered a decision to this effect. The deceased was employed for many years by the Keasbey and Mattison company, but for the last several years he worked for the Cruse-Kemper company. He was always known as a steady workman, and it is believed being out of employment caused despondency.

He was well liked by all who knew him. He was 65 years of age and has resided in Ambler for more than 20 years. He is survived by a wife, five daughters and one son. The funeral services were held from his late home this Wednesday. There are many beautiful floral designs, among which were several from his fellow workmen. Interment was made in Rose Hill cemetery.

Leroy Kinsey, a young resident of the town, went away several weeks ago and has not returned home nor communicated with his parents. The fear is he has met with foul play, as he had several bonds on his person when he left home.

Rev. M. G. Moyer and Tax-Collector Isaac Wampole are having their homes painted.

The Misses Bright are having the Sylvester Bright homestead remodeled. On the Main street front and a new colonial porch is added.

The town council held a busy session on Monday evening. There was no election of street commissioner to succeed Thomas Proctor resigned, as the street committee were of the opinion that they can save several months' salary during the winter by letting Assistant Commissioner John Sampy look after matters. The improvement of East Montgomery avenue was a knotty subject for them the street from Main to Sixth street, a leading throughfare, is in bad condition for winter, but the appropriation for streets is exhausted. Temporary patchwork probably will be the solution. The fire committee reported that an axle on the fire engine was broken at the Kriebel fire on account of bad conditions in the streets. The board of health reported that a test of our hydrant water had been examined at the University of Pennsylvania laboratory. From the state department comes the report that the North Wales water tests the second best in the state; Palmerton being first. The state board of health requested the borough to repair its smudge bed at the sewerage filteration plant so that none of its contents can get into the adjoining creek which flows into the Wissahickon nearby. The residents of South Main street who have not put down cement sidewalks ordered last summer will after 10 days grace have the borough do it for them. Complaint was made that some persons are interfering with parking signs and that the parking rules are broken with impunity. An officer will be detailed to look up this matter. A number of side streets are being macadamized with the macadam from the trolley excavations.

Bridge Opening Oct. 11.

The new bridge across the Schuylkill river at Conshohocken will be turned over to the county commissioners on October 10, and the celebration will be held on the following day, when there will be a parade and other exercises.

Gambler Arugment Oct. 10.

The time fixed for argument in the case of John J. McGoldrick, convicted of aiding in maintaining a gambling house at Wheel Pump hotel, is October 10.

McGoldrick was to have been sentenced Saturday Oct. 1, but his application for a new trial stayed the sentence.

—The attendance for the week at the Reading fair was 180,000.

Mrs. Eugene Kratz visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marchant, of Ivy Hill, on Friday.

A number of people from this community attended Trenton fair.

Rally day services by the Prospectville M. E. Sunday school will be held this Sunday evening at 7.45. All the donations, such as fruit vegetable, jellies, canned goods, will be given to the Methodist Episcopal hospital in Philadelphia.

Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Haney deserve a vote of thanks in behalf of the Prospectville M. E. church for presenting the church with a new altar railing. The gift is a decided improvement to the interior of the church. Rev. and Mrs. Haney give very liberally. Several months ago they presented the church with 2 altar chairs and a table.

County Firemen Meet at Horsham.

The October meeting of the Montgomery County Firemen's Association was held on Saturday evening at Horsham, the members being guests of the Horsham Fire company. The meeting was called to order with the president William Muldrew, in the chair. Thirty-five companies responded to roll call and 116 delegates registered. All standing committees handed in encouraging reports. A communication was read from Charles A. Ewing, vice president of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company, accepting with thanks his election to the association as an honorary member. The treasurer reported a balance of $267.-03.

No reports of fires were given for September, on account of the absence of Fire Chief Foster, who is ill. Mr. Hollobush, of Friendship Hook and Ladder company, of Royersford, gave some suggestions for the information of a fire insurance association in connection with the county association.

Attention was called to the members to the fact that Thomas Jamison, of the Hancock Fire Company, of Norristown, has been endorsed at the September meeting as a candidate for first vice president of the state association. All delegates were requested to support the county candidate.

The meeting adjourned at 9.45 after which luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held on Saturday, November 5, as guests of the Humane Company, at Norristown.

EUREKA.

An interesting meeting of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary society was held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Howard Mullin. Miss Edna Moore gave the Scripture reading and Mrs. B. F. Hartzel and Mrs. Alfred Swartzlander. The chapter from the Mission Study book. A meeting of the Young Woman's Auxiliary was also held at the same time and place, with Miss Evelyn Worth as leader.

A meeting of the adult classes of the Pleasantville Sunday school was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phares Weisel.

Miss Mae Kohler spent the week-end with her parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond MacNair of Lansdowne, spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. H. A. Clymer, and husband.

Dr. G. Leslie Omwake, president of Ursinus college, Collegeville, preached in the Pleasantville church on Sunday morning.

Mr. and A. D. Markley motored to Eaglesville, Penna., last week and brought their daughter, Wilma, home. She had spent the summer there at Cresmont Inn.

Miss Helen Kramer, of Sellersville, was a visitor here on Sunday.

Miss Francis Hartzel ,a recent graduate of Doylestown High school, will matriculate at Hood College, Md., this year. She and her parents motored to that place on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson gave a reception on Saturday evening to their daughter, Ethel, who was recently married. About 80 guests were present.

WEST POINT.

Holy communion was held Sunday evening in Grace Reformed church confirmation services were held on Friday evening.

Grover Zern, of the well known drovers, Zern and Son, has returned from a trip to western Pennsylvania, where he purchased a carload of fine cows.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hoot who have been on a trip to Chicago, Ill., returned to their home here last week.

A portion of the Morris road, which has always been in excellent condition and which is directly south of the West pike, is fast becoming almost unfit for travel, because of the many large holes in the road bed.

Quite a large crop of apples, it is reported, is now being gathered by the growers of this section.

Walter Fenstermacher is recovering from an operation to his index finger, which was performed at River View hospital, Norristown, last week. Fenstermacher, who was the mainstay of the West Point team and one of the best all around players in this section in the independent ranks, sustained the injury to his finger in a game some time ago, and at the time the member was knocked out of joint it resisted all efforts of the family physician to replace the same. The operation was successful, and no further trouble is expected.

The monthly meeting of the Union Sunday School association will be held this Thursday evening.

Some of our farmers have started corn husking and they say a fine crop will be harvested.

Services will be held at 7.30 o'clock Sunday evening in Grace Lutheran church. Sabbath school at the usual hour.

The baseball season has ended for the local team and preparations will now be made for next season. Local fans were treated to some excellent baseball throughout the past season and it is the hoped that the followers will get behind the officials of the local association and assist in a financial way to assure a good team for the season of 1922.

TOWN TOPICS.

W. J. Devine, superintendent of Lindenwold farms, is picking 18 acres of potatoes. The yield is about a half crop.

A reliable, dependable, easy running, easy riding, economical in gasoline, oil and assuring long life to tires—such is the car you are looking for. I beg to call your attention to the Buick. Examine it critically, ask a Buick owner and let me demonstrate its many commendable features. —Rudolph Speelhoffer, agent. adv

Tresspass notices on sale at the "Gazette" office are prepared in conformity with the existing state laws. The provision is that the property must be "prominently posted" with a "printed sign." The sign is required to state that the land is private property and that trespassing thereon is prohibited, and in addition the act of assembly must be stated at the foot of the card. Property owners have desire to proceed legally against trespassers must comply with this law themselves with regard to the nature of the notice posted on their property, else legal action will fail, no matter how flagrant the violation. If you desire to close your land, secure these "Gazette" office notices and post them "prominently," as required by the law.

Two Ambler ladies recently started out one evening to enjoy a ride behind a pony which they considered safe and trustworthy. However, after going about two miles, the steed evidently thought he would take things in his own "hands," so he proceeded to use his feet with such effect that the ladies quickly descended from the pony cart and appealed to a friend near Fort Washington, who succeeded in quieting the steed and took them into his own home. However, they declined to resume their drive behind the pony, and he, most gallantly, cranked up his car and conveyed them to their Ambler home.

What about baseball for next season? Now is the time to get ready so that there may not be a repetition of this year's poor showing. Not only did the team give a poor account of itsself, but the club also suffered a financial loss of almost $500, which amount is principally due local businessmen. This being the case, every effort should be made to see that these bills are paid, so that the credit of the association may be kept good. There is no question but that Ambler and vicinity can and will support good baseball, a fact that has been demonstrated for a number of years. However, there must be careful management, otherwise the experiences of the past season may be repeatd. There should be a meeting called, to which all citizens of Ambler and vicinity interested should be invited, and the business of the present year cleaned up after the full financial report is analyzed, and preparations made for next year. That a winning team is a good thing for any town, has been clearly demonstrated this season at Lansdale and Doylestown, where instead of hundred attending the games there were thousands and interest in surrounding towns was enkindled for the winning league teams.

Heard Thief in Home.

To have a thief visit the house and send the rays of an electric pocket flashlight over the bed in which they were sleeping—this was the unusal experience of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shott, of East Greenville.

Mr. Shott is superintendent of the East Greenville plant of the Boyertown Burial Casket company.

Mrs. Shott was awakened when a streak of light passed over her face. She listened and later heard someone move about in another room. Finally she heard the person tiptoe down the stairs to the first floor. As she awakened her husband she heard the front door close, and thus the thief escaped.

Jury Calls Attention to Weak Bridge.

The Montgomery county grand jury reports to the court that precautions must be taken by the County Commissioners to safeguard traffic over the bridge leading to West Manayunk, in Lower Merion township. In the demand that precautions must be taken, C. Albert Rudolph, a resident of that section, and foreman of the grand jury, forcibly pictured, which the jury declared will result in serious disaster if not taken care of at once.

Adjudications.

Benjamin F. Linsinbigler, late of Upper Providence. Balance, $56.76, which is awarded in equal shares to Irvin Linsinbigler Annie Fry and Daniel Linsinbigler.

George J. Wentz, late of Whitemarsh (No balance.)

Lizzie S. Bossert, late of Schwenksville. Balance, $1388.73 which is awarded in equal shares to Warren H. Bossert, Pauline, Anna and Warren G. Bossert.

Daniel Blair, late of Cheltenham. Balance, $25,071.91, which is awarded to Martha B. Livezey.

Nathaniel H. Styer, late of East Greenville. Balance $193.68, which is awarded in equal shares to Ida S. and John S. Styer.

Guilty of Poisoning Husband.

Found guilty of putting poison in her husband's milk, Angelina Yacovima, of West Conshohocken, was sent to jail for four years by Judge Miller. Commonwealth contended that the act was committed that she might marry Louis Pachelli, of Hickorytown. Pachelli had been indicted but was discharged for lack of evidence.

Robert Simmers, agent of the Department of agriculture of the state, testified that he was nearly killed when he drank some of the milk during the investigation.

How Gambling Cases' Costs Are Divided.

A total of $2,132.73 in costs was paid into court by the gamblers who pleaded guilty following the Wheel Pump Hotel raid by state police. This is aside from the $8100 paid in fines bythe 81 defendants.

Of the total amount of costs, Magistrate Lenhardt collected $622 as his share. The sheriff's office levied fees in the sum of $101.25 and the Clerk of courts' fees amounted to $243. After an additional $10.50 was deducted for the court crier, the balance, or $1156, goes into the county treasury, representing District Attorney fees.

Out of the $622 Magistrate Lenhardt receives, he must pay $1 for each gambler transported from Wheel Pump to his office at Norristown in the big auto trucks.

Ex-Service Men's Power in Lansdale.

The strength of the vote of ex-service men is now a recognized power in Lansdale. At the primaries, Eugene V. Hartley a wounded overseas veteran won the Republican nomination for tax collector in a three-cornered fight by a big margin over George Thomas, president of Lansdale borough council, and L. M. Davis, a contractor. His victory is the first indication of the political strength of the American Legion in Lansdale.

Lansdale's only woman candidate was defeated for the Republican nomination for school director. Miss Mary J. Zweiger, indorsed by the Lansdale League of Women Voters, was beaten by the two present incumbents, Ira B. Harr and Samuel D. Conver. The turnout of the woman vote was a disapointment.

The big local fight was for the town council Republican nomination in the West ward. The two present councilmen, Maurice L. Hendricks and Romanus R. Heckler, were defeated for renomination by two young independents, Herbert G. Godshall and Levin Geller. The vote was nearly 6 to 1 for Godshall and Geller over Hendricks and Heckler.

Burgess David Orr was renominated over Abram Kolb on the Republican ticket. Irvin H. Pool is the Democratic nominee for burgess.

Harry Frantz, present tax collector, was nominated on the Democratic ticket.

—Bucks county municipalities will receive $2,441.17 as its share of more than $667,000 collected as state tax on foreign insurance premiums. The money is distributed to the municipalities for the firemen's relief funds. In Doylestown it is turned over to the firemen's relief association.

SAFETY
A Fountain Pen and a Piece of Paper
Where the unwise "sport a bill roll" the wise "flourish a fountain pen!" That's merely the difference between the man who pays in actual currency and the man who pays by check.
One laboriously counts out cash and waits for his change; the other writes the exact amount on a piece of paper and hands it to his creditor.
The pay-cash-man must wait for a receipt to be written; for the other the cahcelled check is a receipt.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

Never attempt to relieve your baby with a remedy that you would use for yourself.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

Will Build Street for $1.

An unusual proposition has been made to Conshohocken town council by M. J. Harvey, a resident of West Eighth avenue, and a large land holder. He has offered to grade and finish East Eighth avenue from Wells street to Spring Mill avenue at a cost of $1 to the borough.

The offer of a citizen to open, grade and build a street, will be acceptable to the Town Councilmen. Harvey's attorney said that Harvey owns about sixty building lots in Eighth avenue, and as there is no possibility of the borough opening the avenue in the near future, Harvey has agreed to do the work. He asks for the use of the borough roller and agrees to bear all expenses for fuel and the operator.

When the street is finished he will pave and build sidewalks on his own property and commence the erection of eight houses at once to relieve the house shortage in the vicinity. Other houses will be constructed later.

The Street Committee and Solicitor have been asked to submit a grade at once. It is believed this is the first time in the history of the borough that a property owner has made such an offer.

Grip.

Grip usually starts just the same as a cold with a watery discharge from the nose. Your are much more likely to contract the grip when you have a cold. For that reason when grip is prevalent you should go to bed as soon as you feel that your are taking cold and stay in bed until fully recovered which should not be long if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Three days in bed now is better than three weeks later on. oct.

Perkasie Woman Heir to Part of $3,000,000.

Mrs. Louise Isabel Corsa, Perkasie, daughter of the late Edward A. Morrison, financier and sportsman, of Quogue, L. I. will share of her father's estate.

Mr. Morrison died last September while on a visit to England. He left an estate valued at $3,000,000 to his family.

By the terms of the will, which was filed recently, Mrs. Corsa receives one-fourth of the residuary estate.

Got Her Good Health Out of a Bottle.

Mrs. Edward Raifsnider Wabash, Ind., says that she owes her good health to Chamberlain's Tablets. She suffered from distress after eating and constipation and was completely cured by the use of these tablets. oct.

Divorce Proceedings.

Actions in divorce wer filed in the office of the Prothonotary as follows:

By Attorney Wallace M. Keely, in behalf of Lillie Gerhart, of Souderton, against Andrew Gerhart, on the ground of desertion on January 7, 1918. The couple were married February 26, 1911.

By the same attorney, in behalf of Phoebe H. Snyder, of Norristown, against Mark C. Snyder, on the ground of desertion on August 11, 1917. The couple were married December 24, 1907.

Sellersville Rises Non-Resident Tuition.

In view of the increased cost of instructions operation of the schools, etc., it was decided by Sellersville School Board to advance the High School tuition for non-resident students from $6 to $7 per month.

The secretary reported having received a State appropriation to the amount of $1125.00 which however is not a sufficient amount as compared to last years amount. He was instructed therefore to get in touch with the department in regard to this evident shortage.

Financial Loss Due to Colds.

It is estimated that the average man loses thre days time each year from inability to work on account of having a cold. Much of this loss can be avoided by treating every cold as soon as the first symptoms of the dsiease appear. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won a wide reputation and immense sale by its cures of this disease. Try it. You are certain to be pleased with its pleasant taste and the prompt relief which it affords. oct.

Sorrow.

Life is just one sorrow,
That we live out to see.
Sometimes we are happy,
As happy as can be.

In the moment of our happiness
Some sorrow may take place
To bring, instead of joy,
Great trouble and disgrace.

But we fight bravely onward,
Against the word of sorrow.
Fight, till we bring victory
For this day and the morrow.

Perhaps there are some people
With sorrowed hearts or more;
People who do not realize
What life is really for.

We do our doings of today,
Either in joy or sorrow,
But no one in this world can say
Our doings for tomorrow.

When it is nearly bed time,
We merely close our eyes,
Just like the roaming rain clouds
That blot away the skies.

This world is full of happiness
And joy, as we may say.
Be happy in the morning,
Then, keep it up all day.

For life is just one sorrow,
A sorrow we all can fight.
If we must have our bright times,
Kill sorrow at first sight. D. M.

Improve Your Digestion.

If you have weak digestion eat sparingly of meats let at least five hours elapse between meals eat nothing between meals. Drink an abundance of water. Take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. Do this and you will improve your digestion. oct.

To End Odor Nuisance.

At a joint meeting of borough council and the health board to consider the abatement of obnoxious odors continually hovering over a large section of the eastern portion of Quakertown, and which it is alleged his its source from a leather welting factory, Council instructed the borough solicitor to take immediate action to terminate the nuisance.

A nearby stream is also said to be polluted and farmers residing east of the borough have reported the situation to the Bucks County Court. Many irate residents of the affected area attended the gathering and demanded immediate relief.

Contest for Tax Collector in Upper Dublin—Details of Jesse Wireman's Death—Job Detwiler Appointed Constable—Personal and Miscellaneous Items.

Job Detwiler has been appointed constable in Whitemarsh township. Russel Riley and Leo Spiekerman were candidates and their applications were heard by the courts some months ago.

Dorothy Moll has been ill and confined to her house, and as a result the local Whitemarsh school has been closed. It was fumigated last Friday.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mower, of Frankford. The latter formerly resided here.

For your land's sake, see Wm. M. Johnson's adv. page 3. adv

George Herrman, of Philadelphia, called here on Monday..

It is believed there will be a change in postmasters here about Nov. 1, when Mrs. Lang will succeed to the office which for several years has been filled by Louis Kittson as acting pastmaster.

L. S. Moore, who has resided here for a number of years, will shortly remove to the Mrs. Emma G. Styer property, Penllyn, and Mrs. Robert Gordon will occupy the vacated property.

Work on the large garage of Arbuckle-Gordon company has been halted for the present.

The political pot is again beginning to boil. It is now stated, on good authority, that Walter Simmers has received the Democratic nomination at the recent primary and at a recent meeting here of Republicans and Democrats an Indepent ticket was made up. Rumors are flying thick and fast and outcome of the contest will be watched with considerable interest.

Russel Riley has the contract to repaint the Carn property.

Quite a large number of residents attended Trenton fair last week. Also a large number of our baseball fans went to Ambler on Saturday and witnessed the game between Lansdale and Doylestown.

Jacob Wireman in speaking of the accident that resulted in his brother's death, said that the body was picked up about two miles from where the unfortunate man went over the side of the boat and not at Cape May, which was at first reported. Mr. Wireman's brother's name was Jesse, and he was well known at Ambler, where he had been employed for a number of years by the Keasbey and Mattison company. He was about 49 years of age, and it will be remembered that he was on a fishing trip to Fortesque, New Jersey, when he met with the accident that resulted in his death. A strange coincidence is the fact that the body was picked up floating on the water by the same captain who was operating the boat when Wireman fell overboard. When picked up one arm was gone and part of the unfortunate man's face was eaten away.

Last Saturday morning a force of workmen of the Upper Dublin Water company began laying the pipes for running water to the lands of George Bodenstein, which will shortly be developed by Mr. Bodenstein and a number of houses erected thereon.

On Sunday motor travel on the concreted pike was extremely heavy.

A very pretty marriage was solemnized Thursday, Sept. 29, 1921, when Mr. A. Walter Roseman and Martha B. Conard, of Atlantic City, N. J., were married under the trees at Saranac Lake, New York. Dr. Treudaeu, gave away the bride. Miss Conard is the daughter of John Conard, formerly of Fort Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Roseman will be at home in Atlantic City, N. J., after the holidays.

There was a record breaking attendance of 163 at the rally day exercises of Trinity LutheranSunday school, Fort Washington, Rev. Mr. Stiver, of Ambler, delivered a very forceful address to the school. A beautiful program by the children marked the celebration of harvest home in the evening. The church was decorated with cornstalks, huge pumpkins, vegetables, and 17 bouquets of flowers. The occasion was also the 24th anniversary of the corner stone laying.

Mrs. George Morris has been ill with congestion of the lungs.

Miss Ella B. Rowland is recovering from her recent illness.

Miss Kate Young has been on the sick list.

At the home of Mrs. Elmer E. Dungan Thursday, Nov. 13, at 2.30 o'clock the Fort Washington branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its annual business meeting. All directors are urged to be presnt.

COLD POINT AND PLYMOUTH.

For your land's sake, see Wm. M. Johnson's adv. page 3. adv

Miss Jennie and Caroline Karr, of Harmonville, spent Sunday in Philadelphia.

On next Saturday evening in the Cold Point grange hall, Plymouth Centre, Mrs. Helen Hamel will hold an invitation dance for the aid of the grange. Hallman's five-piece orchestra has been engaged and a most delightful occasion is assured.

Miss Helen Geisinger ,of Harmonville, spent Sunday with Miss Sarah James in Plymouth Centre.

J. M. Berkimer has planted a California privet hedge along the front of his property in Harmonville.

Business at the Corsons station during September just passed showed a drop from $31,000 to $12,000 over the previous September. Just at present however, business seems to be picking up. Shipments over both the Reading and the Pennsylvania are improving. The asbestos mill continues to operate about five days per week, and the ore shipments from the E. J. Lavino company are also improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendricks, of Cold Point, spent the week-end crabbing at Stone Harbor.

A splendid rally day services was held in Cold Point Baptist church last Sunday morning, when Rev. Mr. Cawkins, of Temple university, made a most interesting talk to the large congregation present. The pupils showed off to decided advantage in their prompt and correct replies to Bible queries, which preparation on the part of the pupils reflects great credit on Miss Freas and the other teachers, who have so successfully drilled them.

A very delightful occasion was the observance, last Thursday evening, of ladies' night by the K. G. E. home, of Cold Point, at their hall, when Hallman's orchestra from Roxborough, gave selections and played the light fantastic music for the many dancers who thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

After over 27 years of insurance experience with the Fidelity and Casualty Co. as chief accountants, Carson and Ewing gave up their position to go into business for themselves. Their new Philadelphia office is at 434 Walnut street, Philadelphia, and they have also opened up an office for suburban business at their home, the Eckened cottage, Germantown pike, Plymouth Centre, and will be glad for any business their friends may extend to them in the future as they are in a position to handle any kind of casualty or fire insurance anywhere in Pennsylvania.

On Saturday afternoon the Rev. Arthur James and wife, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Posey, of Ambler, were guests at the Eckened cottage.

A party of the accounting department of the Fidelity and Casualty Co., of N. Y., formerly under the employ of Carson and Ewing, gave the latter a surprise at their home, the Eckened cottage, on Saturday afternoon. They brought with them and served a bountiful dinner, which they all enjoyed on the front porch at 5.30 It is needless to say that Carson and Ewing were delighted with the thought of their great appreciation of the past and left a tender thought of their faithfullness to them.

Last Sunday evening holy communion was administered to a well-filled house at the Plymouth Centre Union mission with Carson and Ewing in charge.

Next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 a big time is expected at the Plymouth Centre Union mission, when rally day will be observed with special singing, recitations, readings and a fine program to be rendered. There will also be a short talk. Come one and all, don't miss this good time. Every body welcome.

Carson and Ewing received a very interesting letter from Geo. J. Corbett, of Downey, Cal., and are glad to learn of his great success in the religious work out there. The Little Plymouth Centre Union Mission, (as well as the Eckened cottage boys miss him greatly and it is hoped that he will soon return and join them again in this great work here.

Mr. Wm. Everett Witte, of "The Hollow," Riegelsville, Pa., was a guest over the week-end at the home of Carson and Ewing, Plymouth Centre.

Next Sunday at the Plymouth U. E. Sabbath school there will be boards arranged on the platform, one for each class. On these board will be placed candles, a large one to represent the teacher and as many small ones as there are schools in the class. Then there will be special boards for visitors and new scholars. When the secretary reads the attendance report candles will be lighted showing number present in each class, the absent scholars will be represent by unlighted candles. After candles are burning the boards will be given around to the different classes and the room will be darkened with the exception of the light from the candles. The service will then proceed by using the light from the candles. It is hoped that all scholars will be present, so a large number of candles may be illuminated. Mr. Thomas Kingston, of Norristown, has been secured to make an address before the school.. Mr. Kingston has a large host of friends in and about Plymouth who will be glad of this opportunity to hear him. The Sunday school will start promptly at 9.45 a. m.

BARREN HILL.

Last Sunday about 25 members of the City History Society of Philadelphia visited the community. They first inspected the battle monument and walked through the battle region to the church. It was from the church that stood on the site of the present structure that General Lafayette watched the forces of General Howe in Philadelphia while the Continental forces were wintering at Valley Forge. The visiting party was under the leadership of Dr. Henry Leffman, who lectured at various points of the trip.

The local Scout troop used in their reguar meeting last week 65 slides and a lantern portraying Scout activities in the different counties of the world and scenes from Camp Delmont, where the troop spends a week every year.

A troop of Girl Scouts was organized in connection with St. Peter's church last Friday by Mrs. Hessley, who will be its captain. The first meeting was very encouraging and great enthusiasm was shown. The meetings are held in the Boy Scout bungalow on the Oberle property.

The illustrated lecture; "Jesus the Teacher," given in connection with the Sunday school rally day was enjoyed by a large audience Sunday evening.

Rev. E. A. Chamberlin and Mrs. George Rapine will go by automobile to Harrisburg to attend the 80th convention of the East Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church.

On Wednesday evening Rev. W. Homer Tope, D. D., state superintendent of the Pennsylvania. Anti-Saloon league, will speak at the mid-week services. Topic, "Shall We Go Forward?"

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of Harrisburg, visited the Zoological garden Philadelphia Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Spare, of Chestnut street, entertained Philadelphia friends on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Harvey motored to Baltimore, Md., where they spent the week-end.

Mrs. Laura Rile, of Atlantic City, is visiting Sylvester Gilinger and family.

Mrs. C. C. Hocker is recovering from an attack of grip.

Mrs. Calvin Hart, who has been ill with a severe cold, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Steinmetz entertained Mr. and Mrs. Scahub and son Charles on Sunday.

Holy communion was administered in St. Peter's church Sunday morning by Rev. E. A. Chamberlin assisted by Deacon Clarence Slingluff. As usual a large congregation was present, as it seems to be the endeavor of the members living at a distance to get to the home church for communion. We note from a distance Mrs. Frances Brown and sister, Miss Sarah Coulston, of Glenside; Miss Hettie Boyer, of Philadelphia; Mr. Daniel Staley, of Collingdale, Robert Maguire, of Germantown; Mr. and Mrs. Cassel, of Millbourn; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kerper, of Philadelphia.

Miss Mary Porter, a one-time resident of this vicinity, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Kerper and family.

A very enjoyable entertainment under the leadership of the teachers was given Friday evening by the pupils of the Barren Hill Consolidated schools, and at the close of the entertainment a Home and School League was organized for the mutual benefit of the Home, School and Community at large. Mrs. Walter Miller, of Plymouth Centre, gave a very interesting account of the workings of the League at the Plymouth Consolidated schools.

What was supposed to have been a stolen car and abandoned at Manor road and Ridge pike, Barren Hill, being towed Sunday afternoon under the direction of Chief of Police Eller, of Norristown, ran into Mr. Charles Newman who with his two boys were going along the pike. One was in a go-cart. Mr. Newman was thrown some distance, striking against a fence. The youngest boy was thrown from the cart which was smashed to pieces ,but fortunately none was seriously hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Maxwell, who spent the last eight months with the latter's parents, at Lenoir, N. C., are again residents of this town.

The Betsy Ross Sewing circle made their annual trip in Dengler's Auto Bus to Trenton, N. Sep. 28 where they were entertained by their presidnt, Mrs. William McKannon. These events are always looked forward to with pleasure, as the hostess enjoys the art of being a good entertainer. The dinners, always a large on the ners, always fully upto the previous ones. The Barren Hill Ladies who are always included in these visits accepted the opportunity of calling on Rev. G. Z. Stup, who a few years ago was pastor of St. Peter's church. They were most cordially received by Rev. and Mrs. Stup, and a delightful hour followed. Upon leaving they both expressed the wish to be remembered to all the Barren Hill folk.

JEANES FUND TO BE APPLIED.

Walter H. Jenkins, of Gwynedd One of Committee.

Institution to Fight Cancer Will Stand on Land Near Fox Chase—The $2,000,000 Bequest Since 1907 Has Increased to Nearly $3,000,000—Endowment.

Walter H. Jenkins, of Gwynedd, is one of the committee of the Anna T. Jeanes bequest of $2,000,000, to be applied in the erection and maintenance of a hospital to combat the ravages of cancer, nervous and disabling ailments.

Plans for the hospital are still incomplete, though they are under way. Approximately eighty-two acres belonging to Miss Jeanes' estate were purchased in July, 1920, by the hospital fund. The tract is south of Fox Chase and west of Oxford avenue. The firm of Heacock and Hokanson is preparing the plans of the building. J. Bernard Hilliard, of Salem, N. J., chairman of the Jeanes Hospital committee, said recently that it is hoped that the actual work of construction will begin some time next spring. The Jeanes hospital committee is appointed by the yearly meeting of Friends, to whom the bequest was made.

Although the great cancer hospital planned by the distinguished Friend philanthropist still remains in anticipation, other agencies besides her trustees and the Jeanes hospital committee have gone definitely forward in Philadelphia in an effort to eradicate the disease. Only recently city council appropriated $230,000 for the purchase of two grams of radium and the erection of an emanation plant in the Philadelphia General hospital.

Joseph T. Bunting, attorney for the trustees and one of their number, said that what delay there has been was unavoidable and has been of great advantage, as it has resulted in the accumulation of a larger fund. The original legacy is now valued at $3,000,000, he said. The will of Miss Jeanes was contested, Mr. Bunting said, and the property was not awarded to the Philadelphia Yearly meeting of Friends until 1911.

Under the terms of Miss Jeanes' will the establishment of the institution is placed in charge of the incorporated Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends, the group which has its annual meetings at Fifteenth and Race streets. There are thirty-two trustees, who hold their terms of office for four years. Each year eight places are filled. The trustees are selected by appointment.

The Jeanes' hospital committee was formed in 1915. It consists of 32 members, there being two vacancies in it at present. Mr. Hilliard, of Salem, N. J., has been its chairman two years. Howard Cooper Johnson is attorney for the committee. All plans and specification devised by the committee are subject to the approval of the trustees.

Early in 1919 it was announced that the hospital would be built within twenty miles of Philadelphia.

The land south of Fox Chase upon which it seems the hospital eventually will be built was part of the Jeanes' property known as Stapeley farms. Part of that property was left by Miss Jeanes to be sold in order to support infirmaries in quarterly meeting homes. By that provision the trustees were enabled to acquire it for the hospital site.

The Jeanes hospital committee will reserve a sufficient sum from the $3,000,000 to endow the institution.

Will Benefits Charities.

Mrs. Mary Powers Harris, of Chestnut Hill, who died August 30, leaving an estate of more than $500,000, named eight public institutions as beneficiaries in her will.

Public bequests left by Mrs. Harris, who was the widow of J. Campbell Harris and daughter of the late Thomas H. Powers, total $66,000, and include $25,000 to the Children's Hospital, and the Home for incurables, wing for crippled patients, to be called the Thomas H. Powers Memorial; $8,000 each to the Pennsylvania Hospital, and the Home for incurables, and $5,000 each to Bryn Mawr College, Falls of Schylkill, Y. W. C. A. Home of the Merciful Savior, Chestnut Hill Hospital and Orthopedic Hospital.

Found Lost Father In Bucks Co. Jail.

After searching for several weeks, even to the extent of advertisements inserted in Philadelphia papers, two well-to-do sons recently found their father imprisoned in Bucks county prison serving a thirty-day sentence for vagrancy.

The father, an Italian, aged 63 years, is Dominic Simoni, of 1429 Unity street, Frankford, whose two sons operate an extensive grocery business at that site.

Some time ago Simoni had been discharged from the Byberry hospital on parole. He is partly demented. He was sent to his home in Frankford and about a week later slipped away during the night. He got as far as Morrisville, where he was picked up by a police officer and brought to the Bucks county prison charged with vagrancy. He was to have served 30 days.

Several days ago a Bristol prisoner was admitted to the prison and recognized the old man. The prisoner said he knew that Simoni had two sons in the grocery business in Franford and that both were considered men of means. Prison authorities immediately got in touch with the sons and the father was released. He was taken to his home in Frankford.

Eagleville Farm Sold.

Miller's Farm Agency, of Norristown, sold the 20-acre farm of William W. Nunn, at Eagleville to Edmund Salter, an architect, formerly residing at Worcester.

Mr. Salter took immediate possession of his new purchase and Mr. Nunn moved to North Wales.

Lansdale Plumber Robbed.

Horace Braun, a plumber, of Lansdale, has lost his faith in the axiom, "the early bird catches the worm."

Braun stayed up all night so he would be the earliest of the candidates for plumbing jobs on a building being erected at 3919 Market street, Philadelphia. At 2 o'clock, however, he was overtaken by slumber and dozed off in a construction house on the premises.

When he awoke about 6 o'clock the next morning he found he had been robbed of his gold watch worth $19 and a set of tools valued at $30. And worse still, Braun didn't get the job, for he was reporting his loss the police when the needed plumbers were hired.

Breeds New Fowl to Lay White Eggs.

To satisfy the demands of those who want white eggs—or rather eggs with a white shell—the United States Department of agriculture has been able, through one of its experts in the bureau of animal industry, to breed a new fowl, which combines the heavy meaty qualities of the Plymouth Rock with the White eggs of the White Leghorn.

The White Leghorns are a light fowl and are not popular with the farmers, who want good laying stock with plenty of meat on them. The call for white eggs, is an important factor in poultry raising. Several of the best markets of the country, notably New York City demand eggs with a white shell and are willing to pay a premium for them. The new fowl, which is called the Lamona in honor of Henry M. Lamon, who has spent nine years in breeding it, combines the two desirable qualities—white eggs and plenty of meat.

The following steps were taken in breeding the Lamona: Mr. Lamon began with a silver-grey Dorking hen and a white Plymouth Rock rooster. Their chickens were bred to a single comb white Leghorn.

A careful selection of the chickens so bred was made and the process of inter-breeding begun until a type, which seemed ideal, was reached. Other points sought in the Lamona were yellow skin, yellow legs, red comb and four-toed feet. These requirements lengthened the process, which took nine years.

Constitutional Plan is Beaten in County

The proposed constitutional convention was defeated in Montgomery county by 1191 votes, according to the officials returns.

The total voting "yes" on the convention was 8485 and "no" 9,676.

Isett Family Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Isett family was held at Sanatoga Park with a large attendance. The following officers were elected: Honorary president, David Isett; president, George H. Emrey; vice president, William Walters; secretary, Kathryn Koontz; treasurer, Florence Rickards; historian, Mrs. George H. Emrey. It was decided to Hold the next reunion on Labor Day of 1922, at a place to be decided by the Executive Committee.

New Collegeville Church Begun.

Ground has been broken on Main street, Collegeville, for the construction of a building for St. Clare's Catholic Church. Much credit for it will be due Rev. William Busser. The plans call for a structure 35 by 100 feet, with an annex 27 by 56 feet. There will be a basement auditorium with a seating capacity of over 300. The walls will be of Chestnut Hill gray stone and the architect of the building will be Gothic style. The cost of the new church building will be nearly $30,000.

Supervisors Are Warned by Judge.

Judge Miller, recently before the majority of the constables of the county, assembled to make their customary reports anent their respective bailiwicks directed that a special return, presented against the supervisors of Hatfield township, relative to road conditions in the eastern section of that territory, be referred to the district attorney for such attention as he may deem fit.

Judge Miller, in disposing of the complaint took occasion to say that the court has not the power to take direct actions in such matters as are related in the special return of the constable. However, he stated that any supervisors who fail to properly perform their public duty are guilty of malfeasance in office, and should such neglect be proven to the satisfaction of a jury they will be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to severe punishment. Then Judge Miller added that it is the specific duty of supervisors to keep all highways in their districts in reasonable repair.

The court, at this time, took occasion, to observe that real estate in Montgomery county is assessed far below the market value. This serves to greatly reduce the amount of taxes which should be derived, and thus the amount available for repairs to roads is far short of what it should be. The court also noted that the valuation ratio in some sections of the county is lower than in others and that the proportion of taxes for mileage is less in some sections than in others. Some townships also have more mileage than others. Again in some townships, there are fewer roadways in the care of the state and county commissioners than in other sections. The result is that there is an excess of mileage in some sections with a minimum of taxes available. These facts are all to be considered when the work of the supervisors of any townships are to be reviewed.

The court noted that supervisors must have taxes to build roads, but also must use the money at their command judiciously and to the interest of persons in their territory.

Buckley Divorce is Dropped By The Wife.

The divorce action brought several weeks ago by Sarah P. Buckley against her husband, Chauncey J. Buckley, former sheriff of Montgomery county has been discontinued by Attorney C. T. Larzelere filing a petition to drop the action.

The petition states that a reconciliation has been affected and that Mrs. Buckley and her husband are again living as man and wife.

Beidlers Meet at Abrams.

With 80 of the 109 members of the clan present, the Biedler family held their annual reunion Saturday Sept. 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Biedler, Abrams. Those present were from New York, Bethlehem, Atlantid City, Roxborough, West Chester, Avondale, Norristown and vicinity. The youngest members of the family present was six weeks old Frank Wetherill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wetherill, of Roxborough, and the oldest at the gathering proved to be Abram Metz of Center Point, who is about eighty-five.

Jacob Biedler is president of the family association and he and his wife were most hospitable hosts. Dinner and supper were served in the large farm house and the occasion was a happy one for those present. Musical numbers, vocal and instrumental, as well as entertaining recitations, were given in an interesting and enjoyable program.

It was of interesting note that William Biedler, of West Chester, on the day of the reunion, also celebrated his wedding anniversary and also the anniversary of his birth.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME.

Opportunity Afforded by Robert O. P. Stuart.

Cozy Houses of Convenient Appointments, Splendidly Located Near Train and Trolley, at Reasonable Figures.

"Own your own home," is a slogan that has been preached far and wide during the past four years of advancing rents, profiteering landlords and unscrupulous would-be tenants who acrtiessly bid against your rented fireside in a campaign for occupancy.

To avoid these troubles and to secure a safe haven of residence, repose and contentment—all summed up in the one term "home"—there is only one remedy—purchase your own abode, be independent, be a property owner, take your rightful place in the community, be a part of the body politic in the real significance of home owner—a nest for your family and yourself and a real investment in which, instead of paying rent, you improve your own property, make it more home-like and participate in its increase of value year after year as the community builds up and attrative and desirably-located homes become fewer.

To assist those persons who desire to purchase such homes in a delightful suburban location Mr. Robert O. P. Stuart, who owns an attractive property along the Springhouse and Chestnut Hill turnpike and on Bannockburn avenue, Ambler, has an operation under way whereby he now offers for sale at a moderate price attractive homes most desirably located on conveniently sized plots of ground.

These houses are now undergoing erection and will be completed entirely before winter sets in. The houses are of the bungalow, colonial and cottage types, most attractive in design and appearance, built on good high ground, well drained, with dry cemented cellars, cemented walks and sidewalks, good, large, airy rooms and attractive porches, nine-foot ceilings, bath, hot and cold water, pipless heaters, ranges, boilers, enamel bath tubs, wash stands, toilets, ketchen sinks, with enamel drain boards, stationary laundry trays in basement with hot and cold water.

These houses are admirably located near both Ambler and Fort Washington stations and the tracks of the Lehigh Valley Transit company, along a cement highway and a bricked and macdam street on the other. They are supplied with water and gas systems and a dependable electric light supply.

The types of houses are shown in illustration in this issue of the "Gazette," and must appeal to the eye at once as most attractive in appearance and convenient in detail and plan, each being in individual and distinctive unit in itself as well as in its location. The plotsof ground range in size from 50 to 66 feet front and 150 to 170 feet in depth, with opportunity to the owner of purchasing additional ground.

The operation is full of opportunities and possiblities for the home seeker, both as to the prospects of a home and also in the nature of improvements in conveniences and beauty of surroundings so far as each individual property is concerned.

All information may be secured from the owner, Mr. Robert O. P. Stuart, Box 39, Fort Washington, Pa., Bell telephone, Ambler 263 J, who will be glad to answer inquiries and state prices and terms.

County Firemen Stand by Award.

According to the report of the local committee of the Bridgeport Fire company No. 1, the company will not receive any honors as a result of their part in the contest staged at Willow Grove Park, on August 27th last. This was decided at the meeting held recently by the local committee and the demonstrations committee of the Montgomery County Firemen's association..

Although the Bridgeport firemen made the test in 2 1-4 seconds less than any other team taking part in the contest they were disqualified on account of not having the hose stretched the full length—the judges claiming they were four feet short of the mark.

While it was not their object to take the prize away from the Royersford company, the Bridgeport boys believed the proper spirit would have been to repeat the test, for they claim the disqualification was caused by the men in charge of the test, who selected the position of the apparatus and thereby caused them to be four feet short of the mark when the test was made. This was caused, it is said because the pump on No. 1 apparatus was located differently from that on the Royersford machine as well as on other machines that took part in the contest.

The demonstration committee practically ignored the protest of Bridgeport firemen and were almost unanimous in their refusal to reverse the decision of the judges under any condition.

Albrights Meet.

The first Saturday in September 1919 the Albrights had a get-to-gether meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Landis near Plumsteadville, September 1920 again, and Saturday, September 3, 1921, they held a reunion at Funk's forest park, Chalfont. There were about about 90 present.

A business meeting was held and the officers of the previous year were re-elected: President, Oliver H. Albright, of Philadelphia; secretary, Walter H. Albright, of Blooming Glen; treasurer, Grover C. Albright, of Lansdale; Historian, Daniel Albright, of Philadelphia working committee, Miss Ida Fretz, Mahlon Funk; entertainment committee, Mrs. Kathryn Taylor, Misses Anna Scheip, Amanda Albright.

Daniel Albright, the historian, gave a brief sketch of the Albright history for some generations back.

Due to the heat the meeting was not prolonged. A meeting with a good program is anticipated for another year which reunion was decided to be held September 16, 1922. The third Saturday in September.

The oldest member present was Mrs. Lydia Albright Scheip, of Chalfont; the youngest member, John Gerald Albright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Albright, of Schwenksville, 7 weeks old.

Find Unconscious Boy on Road.

George Umstead, 18 years old, of Hatfield was found lying unconscious along the road near Trewigtown by Mrs. Thomas Smith. He suffers a concussion of the brain. He does not know what hit him. It is believed he was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile that did not stop. The boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Umstead, of Colmar.

Auto Action Settled.

District Attorney Renninger, after a conference with Attorney Henry D. Saylor, of Pottstown, consented to a settlement of a case where Ralph Creger and Vernon Kline, Pottstown young men, were charged with taking an automobile in Pottstown without permission and going on a joy ride to Reading in the car where they were apprehended. The car was the property of Creger's brother and he had reported the machine to the police as stolen.

'Squire Bartholomew had held the young man for trial at court.

Historical Society.

Saturday, October 15, is the date set for this year's outing of the Montgomery County Historical society. The destination will be Abington township and Bryn Athyn. Among the historic places to be visited are the Abington Friends' Meeting house, the Abington Library and the Abington Presbyterian church, all among the oldest institutions of their kind in the county. A public meeting will be held in Abington Presbyterian church. At Bryn Athyn, the Swedenborgian community, the principal object of interest will be the great Cathedral, acknowledged to be one of the most remarkable examples of church architecture in America.

Mileage, Perhaps, For Minority Inspectors.

Whether the primary election can be construed as a general election, as well as primary election, is a question brought up by minority inspectors who are seeking to collect mileage and a days' pay for taking returns to the court house.

Under the law, minority inspectors may accompany the judge of election of the Court House and collect pay following a general election. Tuesday was the regular primary day, but was also general election day for Congressman an delegates to a Constitutional Convention. Six minority inspectors turned up, and presented demands for pay, and the matter was put up to the County Commissioners.

Solicitor Freas Styer ruled that they were wrong in their demands, but the Controller's office has not yet decided whether Tuesday was just as much a general election day as it was primary.

His Name Written on Ballot.

In the balloting for justice of the peace in West Norriten township, at the primaries, Nelson P. Fegley, on the Republican ticket, received twe've votes. His name did not appear printed on the list of aspirants, but was written in by friends, thus securing for him one of the two candidacies. Harry C. Haws won the other nomination.

Norristown Pastor Resigns.

At a recent congregational meeting in Christ Reformed church, Norristown, the pastor, Rev. John M. Peck, announced that he had decided to tender his resignation.

Mr. Peck has received a call from the St. Paul Reformed church, at Buffalo, N. Y., and, after mature consideration, decided to accept it. In all probability he will sever connections with the West End charge towards the end of next month. He has been with the Christ Reformed congregation for four years, having come there from Louisville, Ky.

Perkasie Buys Boiler for Electric Plant.

Perkasie council has received a report of the purchase of a 400 H. P. Heine safety boiler and the initial payment of $1125 was authorized. The boiler will be dismantled and inspected, and if it is up to the requirements of the state inspectors, will be shipped in the near future. The newly purchased boiler will replace one in the electric power plant.

Immediately after adjoining a special season was called to consider important matters relative to certain grades and curb lines in the neighborhood of Ninth street, the borough would assume the expense of a combinatin gutter and sidewalk to replace the curb that was built on the wrong side, along the Philip Cressman property.

Upon motion of Councilman Mensch it was decided to purchase a safe to be placed in thec ouncil chamber to keep borough records.

Fire Companies Protest.

At a recent meeting of the Montgomery County Firemen's association the Wyndmoor Hose Company, No. 1, of Wyndmoor, and the Bridgeport Fire company, No. 1, of Bridgeport, entered protest upon the decision of the judges on the pumping contest in which they took part at the annual demonstration at Willow Grove.

Some Canteloupe!

The climate up at Eaglesville is wonderful for growing cantaloupes.

As evidence for this, Irwin F. Miller, a real estate agent has been exhibiting one weighing 9 pounds, and measuring 30 1-2 inches in circumference raised on his farm by Will A. Rabuck.

Miller boasted of an exceptional crop of this brand of fruit this season, claiming that a number of others raised were also of unusual size.

Charges Not Pressed.

John March, a boarder at 624 West Lafayette street, who was arrested on Monday last, by Detective Frank Sarni, after a number of complaints by neighbors, who made serious charges against him, appeared before Burgess Crawford with his bondsman and represented by counsel.

The principals in the case were taken into private session which resulted in the charges not being pressed against March, provided he immediately leaves town and remains away from this borough.

Hartzells in Reunion.

The twelfth annual reunion of the Hartzell family was held at the home of Irwin Hartzell, at Mt. Bethel, in honor of Lorenzo Hartzell, on Labor Day, about 125 being present. A bounteous dinner was served, to which all did justice, after which the business meeting was called to order by the president, H. M. Hartzell, Rev. E. L. Kennedy, of Portland, gave an interesting address.

The following officers were elected President, H. M. Hartzell; vice president, Calvin Dunbar; treasurer, T. O. Hartzell; secretary, Bert Brodt.

After the business meeting, the afternoon was enjoyed by running and jumping races. A doughnut race, string race, apple race and many other interesting games were held.

It was decided to hold the next reunion at Wayside Park, along the cement highway, midway between Bangor and Martin's Creek on next Labor Day.

MRS. OZIAS REVEALS HAVOC.

Former Ambler ite Describes European Conditions.

Skulls and Equipment Picked Up on Battlefields—Famous Concrete German Dugouts—Farmers Killed Frequently Now By Bombs in Fields.

One of the most graphic accounts of conditions on the battlefields of Belgium and France is given in a recent issue of the Quakertown Free Press in a letter from Mrs. J. Howard Ozias, of Quakertown, formerly of Ambler ,who is touring Europe.

Mrs. Ozias tells of an aerial trip from Paris to London, and then of the sights she saw on the battlefields. As the letter takes up over two columns only abstracts can ge given here as follows: "At Ghelavelt we came to a spot known as the 'Cemetery of Tanks.' In all directions we saw tanks submerged in the so-called "Flanders mud," which you remember we read about, describing the superb exploits of the British Tank Corps, and how their men died in its tanks to save Ypres and to stop the first overwhelming rush of the German troops. In walking over this spot we picked up rifles, guns, cartridges, helmets, gas masks, water bottles, knapsacks, brass buttons, straps, bones and even human skulls, bombs, blades, shovels and many more things I fail just now to remember. We found all sorts of odds and ends in and around those tanks. Ypres is the saddest sight and yet all her people seemed happy and working away to store some of her former gradeur. She is indeed one of the 'Martyr Cities' with her magnificent Thirteenth Century Cloth Hall (once the glory and pride of Belgium) and her gorgeous St. Martin's Church now but ruined shells. Street after street we passed along with not a building standing just heaps and heaps of wrecked homes, stores and hotels. Then, too, as these men and women labor to bring something out of this frightful chaos, there is never a tree to protect them from the glaring heat of the sun.

"Another great disadvantage these folks of Ypres are working under: In 1915 the Germans poisoned every drop of water in their city, so now it all has to be hauled in tanks from a stream a few miles away, where is first passes through a filterer. A third reason why we wonder how these folks of Ypres can ever smile again;for they experienced the first introduction of gas into warfare by the enemey ('twas against the Canadians in April, 1915.)

"Arrar is where we entered what is called the 'French Black Country,' where each spot of ground was fought over inch by inch. The barrenness of this soil is one of the most pathetic sights, and our guide said it will take ten years to again have it reach a condition capable of vegetation.

"The fugitives live in wood and tin huts which they keep spotlessly clean. The wood, used for the sides, has been gathered mostly in the trenches and the corrugated tin, used for the roofs, was brought into Belgium and France by the Germans. The houses look exactly like the tops of conestoga wagons.

"Lens, once the great French coal-miming centre, with its lovely homes and 130,000 population, is nothing now but a heap of ruins. The 'Hill of Rubbish' marks the site of her Cathedral.

"Here also we saw the enemy's numerous fortified dugouts, called the "Labyrinth." We went in many of these and they are almost indestructible, built of a combination of iron railings and cement. Since the war the inhabitants have set off bombs in them to clear them away. But they resist even this pressure and I exepct will remain as they are for many years to come. These were mostly built by the Frenchman under orders given by the enemy, and were occupied by the German officers. Everywhere over the entire entire extent of battlefields we see miles and miles of barbed wire. This the Germans forced the Allies to put all along the roads (leaving a clear path for themselves) to prevent their approach.

"While we were examining a British tank, we heard a bomb explode, then saw the dark grey smoke go up. When we investigated we found a farmer had been ploughing and struck it and three men were killed. This is almost a daily occurrence.

"After leaving Ste. Menehould we entered the Argonne Forest where the French and our American troops fought so hard. Romagne, I am sure, our boys all remember. Here is the largest American cemetery in France. Twenty-three thousand men lie here who fell in the Meuse-Argonne offensive and as we gazed at the rows and rows and rows of little and big wooden crosses, we understood why Rudyard Kipling wrote—' it rests with the individual tourist to have respect for the spirit that lies upon all that land of desolation and to walk through it with reverence.

"All around us we saw the terribly tortured countryside—scenes of fighting and artillery duels so terrible that whole forests were reduced to what the soldiers called rows of 'tooth picks'. The heroic struggles of our men (meaning the Allied troops) can never be forgotten as long as we respect heroism how they fought month after month under the continual bombardment of the German guns and against repeated onrushes. Every few miles we passed the grave-yards where thousands are 'sleeping their last sleep.' St. Mihiel is here called the 'Clean-Cut' American Victory,' for the whole salient was rushed and cleared of the enemy by our fresh and enthusiastic troops in three days (September 12,13,14, 1918.

The men whistle at their weary work of reconstruction and the women sing as they toil in one fertile fields. I do not believe there is one pen in all the world that can one-half adequately express the sights witnessed when walking across these battlefields."

Lineman Killed.

Coming in contact with a high-tension wire while working with a screw of the Philadelphia and Suburban Electric Company, on the Old York road at Willow Grove recently, Nathan Dosner, 35 years old of 420 Leedon street, Jenkintown, was instantly killed. His fellow workmen succeeded in releasing the body from the live wire by means of a rope, after it had been badly burned.

Wills Probated.

Clara M. Wasser, late of Upper Moreland: The estate is valued at $5500, and she gives the same to her children, naming Susanna L. Walton, as executrix.

—Perkasie is assured of the 1922 Chautauqua guarantors signed at the closing sessions.

Why Agriculture is Losing Ground.

Some people were surprised when the census showed that more than half of the population of the United States is living in cities of more than twenty-five heundred inhabitants; but previous censuses had shown that we were tending to become an urban rather than a rural people. The reasons for the change aren ot difficult to understand, nor are they alarming.

The first and simplest reason for the movement toward the cities is that the enlarged use of agricultural machinery enables fewer men on the farms to do a given amount of farm work. A part of the farm wohk is now done by the makers of farm machinery and they live in towns and not on farms. Another reason is that as people grow in wealth and the ability to indulge in luxuries they demand more and more refined products. Those refined products do not require any more raw material than the less refined products that they formerly consumed, but they do require more work in the process of manufacturing, and that work is done by people who live in towns. It takes no more wool, cotton, linen or silk to make fine clothes than coarse clothes, but it does take more work in factory and shop, and the people who work in the factories and shops live in towns.

A third reason, not so simple as the two just named, but probably of even greater importance, is that we are a mechanically gifted race and the opportunities for "cashing in" on that special gift are somewhat better in the mechanical than in the agricultural industries. True, agriculture is, to some extent, a mechaniacl industry, but not to the same extent as manufacturing. There are vast populations in other parts of the world, less mechanically gifted than we, who can supply us with the products of non-mechaniacl industries and who will pay us a good price for thep roducts of our special mechanical gifts.

The English people, our nearest relatives, wer the first o tprofit by that knid of international division of labor, and they grew rich by it. We followed closely in their train. Lately the Germans, the French and the Italians have been moving in the same directions, and we must expect that other nationalities will follow the same example. It is difficult to see where the tendency will lead, but it is certain that it will result in increasing competition among thase nations that turn to manufacturing. There will be fewer non-mechanical nations with which to trade and ther will be more mechanical nations trying to trade with them. As a result of the intense competition among manufacturers, agriculture will probably become a more remunerative occupation.

Investingating Theft of 'Indian' Landmark.

The newly organized West Norriton Protective association, composed principally of owners of bungalows situated along the banks of the Schuylkill river in thev icinity of Port Indian, has completed its organization with the election of officers and appointment of committees. Its primary object is to combine for the purpose of protecting private interest and promoting the welfare of the community.

The firstc ase to come before the association was the recent theft from the Commercial Club of the "Indian" landmarkw hich stood in front of the club house. The "Indian," which was formerly used in front of a cigar store, was given to the club by a member, repainted and occupied for years a prominent place on the lawn in front of the Commercial Club House where it attracted considerable attention from the boats passing along the river. Several days ago it disappeared and its loss was reported to the Association.

While this is in the investigation will be pushed and charges pressed against those responsible for the theft as an example of the methods which are to be pursued in the determination to punish trespassers.

Gun Fight in Springfield.

Four men, who, it is believed, planned a robbery or possibly a kidnapping, are being sought by state police and by the authorities of Sprinfield township, following a gun battle between the quartette and two men who live on Church road west from Glenside, in Springfield township.

According to reports, Patrick Migrannio was aroused shortly before 4 o'clock by pounding on the front door. When Migrannio's son answered from an upper window he was told that a man, supposedly known to the Migrannios, was below and wanted to see the elder Migrannio. When Migrannio refused to come down, it is said threats were made. This was followed by firing shots at the Migrannio house.

The Migrannios, father and son, returned the fire, and the four men fled, firing as the ran towards Church road. The officers believe that a robbery and possibly the kidnapping of the older Migrannio was intended, State police at Ambler nor the township authorities have no definite clues.
